LawPay's Weekly Condensed Curriculum with Claude!

For lawyers practicing at a distance or anyone interested in honing their skills, LawPay is rolling out a 7-week series of live, fast-paced, 30-minute programs every Friday at 12:00 p.m. Central Time (10:00P/1:00E).

Join Claude Ducloux, LawPay's Director of Education, take a break, and stay sharp!

THIS WEEK:

March 27 “Practicing Law in the Shadow of COVID-19” a 30-minute condensed course based upon a presentation to the State Bar of Texas on March 20, 2020.

UPCOMING:

April 3 “Effective Ethical Behaviors in the Pursuit of Conflict Resolution”

April 10 “Client Relations and Law Firm Finances”

April 17 “Ethics of Contract Negotiation”

April 24 “The Danger of Boilerplate Contract Provisions”

May 1 “Litigating in a Divided Nation”

May 8 “Preparing and Cross-Examining Witnesses”

NOTE: Every one of these condensed legal education programs has previously been approved for CLE credit in their original 1-hour formats in multiple jurisdictions. All programs will be qualified in Texas for CLE credit, and each attendee will receive a certificate of completion. Unfortunately, there is not sufficient time (usually a minimum of 60 days) for LawPay to have these weekly webinars specifically approved in other jurisdictions. Each attendee must use the “self-study” rules available in most jurisdictions to seek credit.
