

It was a pleasure seeing so many attorneys at the recent event. Please contact us to discuss potential opportunities. We have already met with some of your colleagues. Please call or e-mail us to set up a coffee or lunch. – Peter Bowman 203.710.0520

Billings, Barrett & Bowman is a statewide law firm, actively seeking to meet with lawyers who are considering retirement or reducing their work hours. You have worked tirelessly for decades developing your law practice. There is no reason to close your business without a plan in place to ensure your clients are taken care of and to earn income your years of hard work and dedication. We want to meet with you.

You can monetize your goodwill.

We are actively meeting with attorneys who want to slow down their practice of law. The following opportunities are available:

- Direct Purchase of your Law Practice
- Of Counsel positions
- Referral and co-counsel relationships
- Merging staff and law practices
- Co-Marketing Opportunities
- Long-term planning for eventual retirement

Some opportunities may include direct payment, hourly payment, co-counsel fees and/or health benefits. We will meet with you, confidentially, to discuss your practice and what you are considering for the future. Call us today . . .
