Hi, Joe,

Attach please find my fifty state survey on fee waivers and refunds of bar exam fees. I have also attached an email from the Bar Examiner in Texas and information on the Texas fee waiver for indigent applicants.

In summary, the following states have some type of fee waiver policy or rule:

- Massachusetts
- Texas
- Ohio (by petition to the court and for veterans)
- Rhode Island (by petition)
- Vermont (in theory by petition)
- Wisconsin (for veterans)
- Minnesota (in theory by petition)

From this list, I can draw the conclusion that half of the New England states have at least some mechanism for waiving fees for indigent applicants. Only Massachusetts and Texas have clearly developed policies for indigent applicants.

As far as refunds:

- Some states have no refunds for any reason
- Some states have partial refunds
- Some states have refunds that are rarely granted and only on motion to the court
- Some states transfer the full bar exam payment to a later exam for certain circumstances
- Some states transfer a partial bar exam payment to a later exam for certain circumstances
- California has the most detailed standards for refunds under an array of circumstances (see chart attached)

Subject: Fee Waivers

Ms. Petruzzelli:

The BLE has a policy on fee waivers adopted by the Board that I apply to consideration of requests to waive fees.

A copy of the waiver delegation policy is attached.

We require the applicant seeking a fee waiver to submit a completed Income and Expense form with any related documentation, such as evidence of public assistance.

We require the applicant to provide two years of tax returns, their most recent paystub and their spouse's paystub. In some cases, we may request specific documentation. In the first half of this year, through May 31, (no examination applications are received between May 1 and July 1) 45 fee waivers were considered. Thirty (30) of the 45 requests were granted in whole or in part. Two were withdrawn and 13 were denied. Late fees are rarely waived.

The income and expense form may be found on our website at <https://ble.texas.gov/getpdfform.action?id=1462>.

I hope you find this information helpful.

Sincerely,

Susan Henricks

BOARD OF LAW EXAMINERS
WAIVER DELEGATION POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Rule 20 of the Rules Governing Admission to the Bar of Texas authorizes the Board to waive application of the rules “for good cause shown” and to delegate its duties to the staff.

Specifically, Rule 20(e) provides that “(t)he Board is given discretion in the interpretation and application of these Rules. For good cause shown to the satisfaction of the Board, upon written request, waivers of specific requirements described in these Rules may be granted, unless it appears there from that no exceptions are contemplated by the Supreme Court.” Rule 20(g) authorizes the Board to “delegate its duties to a panel of the Board or to the staff, as necessary and where not prohibited by law; provided however that the Board shall not delegate to staff its authority to make final determinations that an Applicant or Declarant lacks the requisite good moral character and fitness.”

The Texas Sunset Advisory Commission Staff has recommended that the Board delegate decision making on “routine” waiver requests to the Executive Director to increase efficiency.¹ The Board most frequently receives requests to waive the Supreme Court Rules on the deadlines for filing applications to take the Texas Bar Exam and on payment of required fees. Of the more than 100 waiver requests received annually, the Sunset Advisory Commission staff identified these two types of waiver requests as the most “routine.” Because Board panels meet no more often than monthly, decisions on these routine requests must be delayed for up to 30 days and require significant staff time to prepare meeting notifications and materials for Board panel members to review at public meetings.

PROPOSED GUIDELINES

Because Rule 20(e) requires “good cause” to be shown to support waiver of any rule, the staff proposes the following guidelines for determination by the Executive Director of routine requests to waive filing deadlines and fees:

- A. Requests to waive filing deadlines:
 - 1. Good Cause may be shown by evidence of something more than forgetfulness, failure to read the rules or to investigate requirements for admission to the Bar, inattention to the rules, or other conscious indifference.

2. Examples of Good Cause may include physical or mental disability caused by illness, extreme family emergency or impossibility of compliance for any reason beyond the applicant's control such as a natural disaster or intervening acts of a third party.

B. Requests to waive payment of required fees:

1. Good Cause may be shown by evidence of indigence due to circumstances other than voluntary, willful unemployment or student status.
2. Examples of good cause may include inability to work due to illness or disability, adverse circumstances such as natural disaster or financial loss caused by accident or injury beyond the applicant's control such as casualty loss or intervening acts of a third party and unsuccessful attempts to borrow funds to pay fees.
3. Applicants seeking waiver of fee payment requirements must submit a fully completed sworn financial status form with supporting documentation.
4. Applicants seeking fee waiver must fully and accurately disclose all sources of income, including spousal income and assets, cash or checking accounts, dependents, debts and monthly expenses.
5. Board staff shall not be obligated to advise applicants regarding deficiencies in the form or content of applications for waivers or supporting documentation submitted to the Board, but shall direct applicants to comply with guidelines for staff determination of waiver requests.

C. Evidence of good cause:

1. Evidence of good cause should be in the form of potentially admissible evidence accompanied by a sworn statement or certification to show authenticity or reliability.
2. Redacted copies of medical records, invoices, explanation of benefits on insurance claims, accident reports, loan applications, correspondence with potential lenders or employers, authenticated with public seal or affidavit of the applicant or third party should be submitted with the waiver request
3. Board staff shall not be obligated to advise applicants regarding deficiencies in the form or content of applications for waivers or supporting documentation submitted to the Board, but shall direct applicants to comply with guidelines for staff determination of waiver requests.

D. Exceptions

1. Should it appear to the Executive Director, for any reason, that a request to waive filing deadlines or fee payments should not be considered as "routine," the request shall be set for consideration before a panel of the Board, at the next available date, subject to requirements for notice of a public meeting.

BOARD OF LAW EXAMINERS
WAIVER DELEGATION POLICY

INTRODUCTION

Rule 20 of the Rules Governing Admission to the Bar of Texas authorizes the Board to waive application of the rules "for good cause shown" and to delegate its duties to the staff.

Specifically, Rule 20(e) provides that "(t)he Board is given discretion in the interpretation and application of these Rules. For good cause shown to the satisfaction of the Board, upon written request, waivers of specific requirements described in these Rules may be granted, unless it appears there from that no exceptions are contemplated by the Supreme Court." Rule 20(g) authorizes the Board to "delegate its duties to a panel of the Board or to the staff, as necessary and where not prohibited by law; provided however that the Board shall not delegate to staff its authority to make final determinations that an Applicant or Declarant lacks the requisite good moral character and fitness."

The Texas Sunset Advisory Commission Staff has recommended that the Board delegate decision making on "routine" waiver requests to the Executive Director to increase efficiency.¹ The Board most frequently receives requests to waive the Supreme Court Rules on the deadlines for filing applications to take the Texas Bar Exam and on payment of required fees. Of the more than 100 waiver requests received annually, the Sunset Advisory Commission staff identified these two types of waiver requests as the most "routine." Because Board panels meet no more often than monthly, decisions on these routine requests must be delayed for up to 30 days and require significant staff time to prepare meeting notifications and materials for Board panel members to review at public meetings.

PROPOSED GUIDELINES

Because Rule 20(e) requires "good cause" to be shown to support waiver of any rule, the staff proposes the following guidelines for determination by the Executive Director of routine requests to waive filing deadlines and fees:

A. Requests to waive filing deadlines:

1. Good Cause may be shown by evidence of something more than forgetfulness, failure to read the rules or to investigate requirements for admission to the Bar, inattention to the rules, or other conscious indifference.

¹ Staff Report, Sunset Advisory Commission on Board of Law Examiners, 2016-2017, 85th Legislature, P. 54.

2. Examples of Good Cause may include physical or mental disability caused by illness, extreme family emergency or impossibility of compliance for any reason beyond the applicant's control such as a natural disaster or intervening acts of a third party.

B. Requests to waive payment of required fees:

1. Good Cause may be shown by evidence of indigence due to circumstances other than voluntary, willful unemployment or student status.

2. Examples of good cause may include inability to work due to illness or disability, adverse circumstances such as natural disaster or financial loss caused by accident or injury beyond the applicant's control such as casualty loss or intervening acts of a third party and unsuccessful attempts to borrow funds to pay fees.

3. Applicants seeking waiver of fee payment requirements must submit a fully completed sworn financial status form with supporting documentation.

4. Applicants seeking fee waiver must fully and accurately disclose all sources of income, including spousal income and assets, cash or checking accounts, dependents, debts and monthly expenses.

5. Board staff shall not be obligated to advise applicants regarding deficiencies in the form or content of applications for waivers or supporting documentation submitted to the Board, but shall direct applicants to comply with guidelines for staff determination of waiver requests.

C. Evidence of good cause:

1. Evidence of good cause should be in the form of potentially admissible evidence accompanied by a sworn statement or certification to show authenticity or reliability.

2. Redacted copies of medical records, invoices, explanation of benefits on insurance claims, accident reports, loan applications, correspondence with potential lenders or employers, authenticated with public seal or affidavit of the applicant or third party should be submitted with the waiver request

3. Board staff shall not be obligated to advise applicants regarding deficiencies in the form or content of applications for waivers or supporting documentation submitted to the Board, but shall direct applicants to comply with guidelines for staff determination of waiver requests.

D. Exceptions

1. Should it appear to the Executive Director, for any reason, that a request to waive filing deadlines or fee payments should not be considered as "routine," the request shall be set for consideration before a panel of the Board, at the next available date, subject to requirements for notice of a public meeting.
